Phuket & Koh Yao Noi: 4-Day Family Beach Adventure

Two nights of toddler-friendly Phuket fun - water parks, beachfront pools, and a special dinner at Laimai Courtyard - followed by two nights on serene Koh Yao Noi, a sheltered Phang Nga Bay hideaway with calm beaches, limestone karst scenery, and mangrove kayaking. Perfect for a family of three in June.

Day 1: Phuket Arrival & Bang Tao Beach

Morning

- Arrive & Check In - Settle into your beachfront resort at Bang Tao / Laguna area. Unpack, let the toddler explore the pool. (2h, Resort cost)

Food: Resort breakfast or cafe near Boat Avenue ($$)
Transport: Taxi or Grab from Phuket Airport (~45 min to Bang Tao)

Afternoon

- Bang Tao Beach Stroll & Lagoon Pool - Wide, flat beach with gentle sandy entry. The Laguna resort lagoon pool system is a toddler paradise - calm, shallow, safe. Build sandcastles and splash around. (3h, Free (beach) / included (resort pool))
- Porto de Phuket Browse - Charming open-air shopping plaza 5 mins from Bang Tao. Fun murals and easy strolling with a toddler. (1h, Free)

Food: Boat Avenue area restaurants ($$)
Transport: Walk or hotel buggy to beach

Evening

- Sunset at Bang Tao Beach - Phuket sunsets over the Andaman Sea are magical - even on cloudy June evenings the skies turn beautiful shades of orange. (45min, Free)

Food: Beachfront restaurant near resort ($$-$$$)
Transport: Walk from resort

Estimated Daily Cost: ~$180-250
Tip: Check in at Bang Tao / Laguna area for easiest beach access
Tip: Morning waves can be calm at Bang Tao - great for toddler paddling
Tip: Ask hotel for beach flag updates each morning

Day 2: Splash Jungle + Laimai Dinner

Morning

- Splash Jungle Waterpark - Phuket's best family water park, with dedicated toddler zones, small slides, shallow spray pools, and a wave pool. June = minimal crowds. The kiddie splash area is perfect for a 3-year-old. Allow 3-4 hours. (4h, ~$35-45/adult; under 90cm often free)

- Lunch at Splash Jungle - On-site restaurant has vegetarian Thai dishes, fried rice, noodles, and fruit. Easy and convenient. (1h, ~$10-15/person)

Food: Splash Jungle Restaurant ($$)
Transport: Taxi/Grab to Mai Khao (~40 min from Bang Tao, ~45 min from south Phuket)

Afternoon

- Resort Pool & Toddler Nap - Return to the resort for a quiet afternoon - naptime for the little one, pool lounging for parents. Essential to keep the toddler rested for the evening out. (3h, Included)
- Big Buddha (Optional) - If energy allows, the iconic 45m white marble Buddha on Nakkerd Hill is a 20-min drive and takes 30 mins to visit. Sweeping Phuket views. Free entry, paved path. (1h, Free)

Food: Fresh fruit from local market ($)
Transport: Taxi back to resort from Splash Jungle

Evening

- Dinner at Laimai Courtyard Restaurant & Bar - Your special dinner at this atmospheric courtyard restaurant in Phuket. Beautiful open-air setting with lantern ambience. Modern Thai / Thai-fusion menu - request vegetarian options when booking. Best enjoyed 6:30-9:00 PM when the heat breaks. Confirm current hours and veggie menu before going. (2h, ~$40-80 for two adults)

Food: Laimai Courtyard Restaurant & Bar ($$$)
Transport: Taxi/Grab to Laimai Courtyard (~15-25 min depending on location)

Estimated Daily Cost: ~$150-220
Tip: Arrive at Splash Jungle early (opens 10am) before afternoon rain showers
Tip: Toddlers under 90cm often enter Splash Jungle free - check current policy
Tip: Book Laimai Courtyard in advance, especially in June when it may be quieter but still worth reserving

---

Day 3: Cross to Koh Yao Noi - Sheltered Bay Bliss

Morning

- Speedboat Transfer to Koh Yao Noi - 30-45 minute speedboat from Bang Rong Pier across Phang Nga Bay. Dramatic limestone karst scenery along the way - James Bond Island territory. Toddler will love it. (1h (incl. pier time), ~$15-25/person)
- Check In & Beach Arrival - Check in to your resort on Koh Yao Noi (see resort suggestions below). Drop bags, head straight to the beach. The water here is sheltered and calm - ideal for toddler paddling year-round. (2h, Resort cost)

Food: Resort lunch or beachfront Thai restaurant ($$)
Transport: Grab/taxi to Bang Rong Pier from Phuket resort (~30-45 min)

Afternoon

- Koh Yao Noi Beach Exploration - Loh Jark Bay or Pasai Beach - shallow, sandy, calm and sheltered. Perfect for a 3-year-old to splash and build sandcastles while you soak up the jaw-dropping karst scenery. No jet skis, no crowds. (3h, Free)
- Sunset Karst Views - As the sun drops, the limestone towers turn golden. Watch from the beach or your resort - one of the most scenic sunsets in Thailand. (1h, Free)

Food: Local village restaurant ($-$$)
Transport: Walk or bicycle rental (~50-100 THB/day)

Evening

- Resort Dinner with Bay Views - Dine at your resort overlooking Phang Nga Bay. Many properties offer candlelit outdoor tables with views of the illuminated karsts. Pure magic for a family evening. (2h, ~$30-60 for two adults (resort dining))

Food: Resort restaurant ($$$)
Transport: On-site at resort

Estimated Daily Cost: ~$200-300
Tip: Book speedboat from Bang Rong Pier (north Phuket) - confirm 24hrs ahead as June weather can affect schedules
Tip: Pack a small waterproof bag for the speedboat crossing
Tip: The Phang Nga Bay limestone karsts are breathtaking - first views from the boat are unforgettable

---

Day 4: Mangrove Kayaking & Village Life

Morning

- Mangrove Kayaking in Phang Nga Bay - Guided sea kayak through mangrove tunnels and around limestone islands. A toddler can sit in the front of the kayak. Calm, sheltered water - no ocean swells. The mangrove ecosystem is fascinating for little ones (crabs, fish, birds). (2.5h, ~$25-45/person (guided tour))
- Village Bicycle Ride - Koh Yao Noi's interior has rice paddies, rubber plantations, and a traditional Thai Muslim fishing village. Cycling on very quiet roads with a toddler in a bike seat is a wonderful, peaceful experience. (1h, ~$5-8/day bicycle rental)

Food: Local market fruit & snacks ($)
Transport: Resort arranges kayak tours; bicycles rented locally

Afternoon

- Final Beach Time & Resort Pool - Last afternoon on the island - back to the beach for one more toddler splash session in the calm Phang Nga Bay shallows. Soak it in before heading home. (2h, Free)

Food: Beachside cafe or resort lunch ($$)
Transport: Walk

Evening

- Speedboat Return to Phuket - Afternoon/evening speedboat back to Bang Rong Pier, then transfer to Phuket airport or hotel for onward journey. (1h (incl. pier time), ~$15-25/person)

Food: Airport or hotel dinner on return ($$)
Transport: Speedboat to Bang Rong Pier, then Grab/taxi

Estimated Daily Cost: ~$100-180
Tip: Mangrove kayaking is calm and perfect for a toddler in a front-seat position - life jackets provided
Tip: Morning is the best time for kayaking before afternoon rain
Tip: Koh Yao Noi has very low traffic - a bicycle ride through the paddyfields is relaxing and toddler-friendly (bike seat attachment)
Tip: If monsoon rain arrives, use the afternoon for resort pool time and a spa session for the adults

---

Budget Summary

- Accommodation (4 nights, mid-luxury): $400-800 total
- Speedboat transfers (x2): $60-100 total
- Splash Jungle Waterpark: $70-90 (2 adults)

- Meals (vegetarian Thai - very affordable): $80-150 total
- Activities (kayaking, bicycle, Big Buddha): $60-120 total
- Laimai Courtyard dinner: $50-90
- Taxis / Grab: $40-70 total
- Total estimate: $760-1,420 for 4 days (family of 3)

Packing List

- SPF 50 reef-safe sunscreen (essential for toddler)
- Toddler swim float / puddle jumper
- Lightweight rain jacket (June showers are common)
- Sandals and water shoes for rocky beach access
- Baby carrier or toddler backpack (for uneven terrain)
- Insect repellent (mangrove areas)
- Vegetarian snacks from home (backup for picky eating)
- Small dry bag for speedboat crossings
- Kids life jacket (resorts/tour ops usually provide)
- Lightweight stroller (optional - Koh Yao Noi is low-traffic cycle-friendly)
- Portable fan (June is hot and humid)
- Reusable water bottles

TravelBud